SmartFrame for content owners

SmartFrame is the largest and most secure image-streaming network online, helping content owners around the world to protect, present and profit from their images.

Forget about theft and dwindling licensing revenues, and start to profit from images you can finally control. Say hello to the future of online image publishing with SmartFrame.

What makes us different?

Robust security

All SmartFrames have protection against right-clicks, drag-and-drop actions and common screenshot methods built in as standard.

New profit streams

Tired of earning pennies from your images? In-image advertising allows you to generate fresh revenues with zero effort.

Optimum presentation

Your audience can dive right into the details of the scene with Hyper Zoom technology and view full-screen images with a single click.

Detailed analytics

We combine the context of the image and webpage with the viewer's location and device for the most accurate targeting.

Efficient delivery

Standard, high-resolution images easily weigh down websites, but SmartFrames are streamed for efficiency, with as much detail as required.
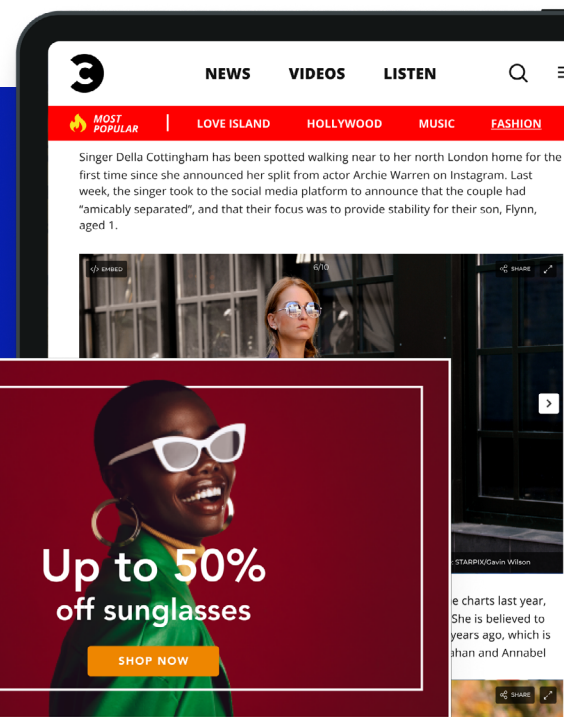

Fully managed service

Our end-to-end service is easy and fast to set up, and we do the heavy lifting so you can keep your focus on business.

"We work with the best cameras and I try and be as good as I can be. We don't compromise at all ... and that's where SmartFrame has helped us."
